

REVOLUTIONS IN BIOMEDICINE SUMMER SCHOOLS

Application Guide

HOW TO APPLY | FACULTY OF MEDICINE | IMPERIAL COLLEGE LONDON

WELCOME

This manual has been designed to make your application to Imperial College's Revolutions in Biomedicine Summer Schools easier. We will go over each step of the application process in detail, from creating an online application account all the way to submitting documents and accepting an offer.

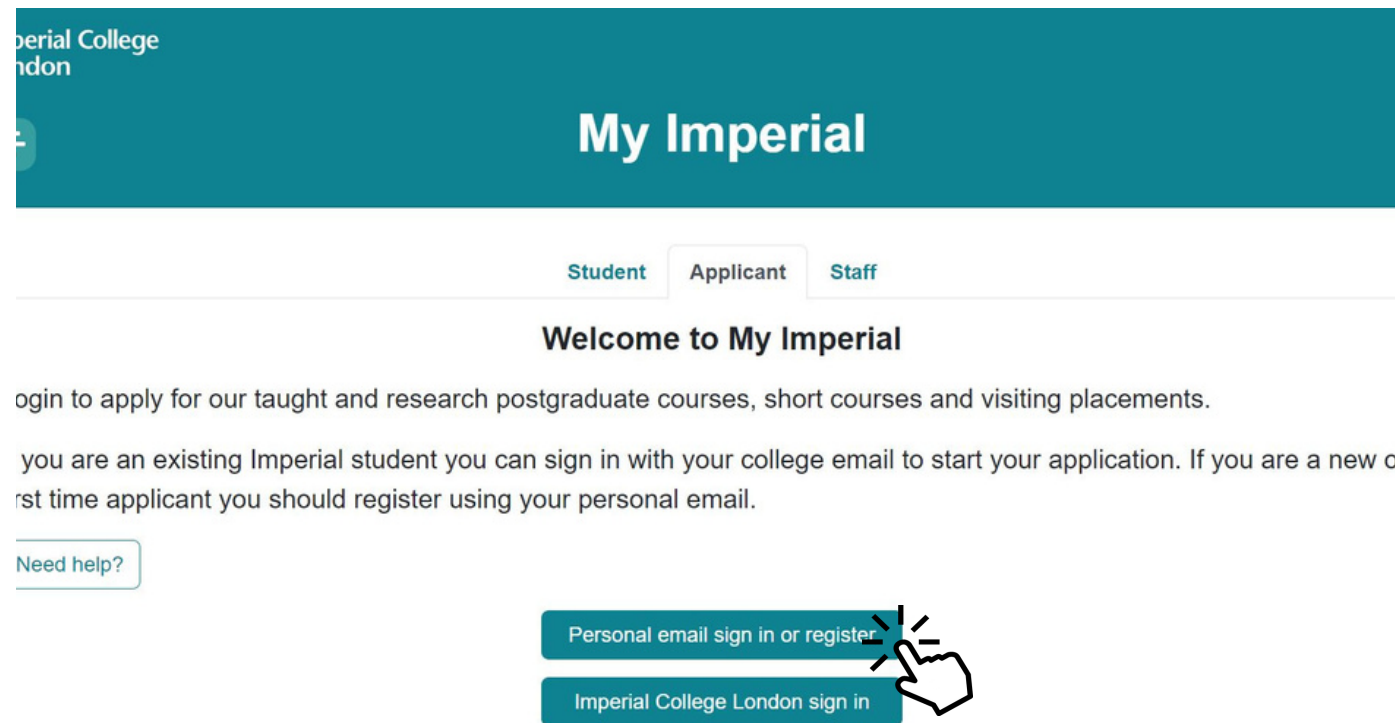

We hope you find this information helpful and we very much look forward to having you join the Imperial College student body.

BEFORE YOU APPLY

Here is a checklist of required documents you should have beforehand:

- Evidence of passing an undergraduate Bioscience module:
 - A results transcript (screenshots are accepted)
 - If you do not have this at the time of completing your application form, you must provide an academic reference from a tutor at your current institution instead.
- The College requires proof of English language qualification. Accepted proofs are:
 - Evidence of undertaking an undergraduate or postgraduate degree taught in English from a set list of countries.
 - IELTS (6.5 overall, minimum score of 6.0 in all elements)
 - TOEFL (92 overall, minimum score of 20 in all elements)
 - Other English language qualification listed on the College's English- language requirement page of 'standard' level.
